

National Severe Weather Warning Service

Chief Forecasters Assessment

Wintry showers will continue to fall overnight and into Monday morning, bringing the potential for ice to form where surfaces are left wet. As showers turn increasingly to snow, especially inland, 1-2 cm may accumulate in a few places.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Ice

Valid from 18:00 on Sun, 04th Feb 2018 until 10:00 on Mon, 05th Feb 2018

Icy patches are likely to form on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths, bringing a risk of injuries from slips and falls as well as difficult driving conditions. In addition, wintry showers may produce a light covering of snow in places by Monday morning.
